ISO 50001 Implementation (Energy Management System)

EE022

ISO 50001 Implementation (Energy Management System)

ISO 50001 provides organisations with a structured framework to manage energy performance effectively. This two-day course is designed to guide learners through the complete implementation process of an Energy Management System (EnMS), aligned to the ISO 50001 standard.

Through case studies and real-world examples, learners gain the practical tools needed to design and implement an EnMS that supports energy efficiency, compliance and environmental responsibility. The course empowers organisations to achieve cost savings while enhancing sustainability outcomes. It is also suitable for those who do not intend to pursue formal certification but wish to implement best energy practices and reduce environmental impact.

The content is tailored to ensure practical application across industries and can be adapted for in-company delivery.

Who should participate?

This course is ideal for anyone responsible for energy management or environmental performance within an organisation. It is also valuable for those leading or supporting the implementation of ISO standards.

- Energy managers and coordinators
- Facilities and operations personnel
- Environmental officers
- Internal auditors and compliance staff

Anyone seeking to reduce energy costs, enhance sustainability, or prepare for ISO 50001 implementation will benefit from attending.

English Language Competency
A good standard of written and spoken English is important to engage effectively with this programme.

What will I learn?

On successful completion of this course, learners will be able to:

- Evaluate the strategic and operational advantages of implementing an energy management system
- Interpret the requirements and structure of ISO 50001
- Distinguish ISO 50001 from ISO 14001 and ISO 9001
- Conduct an energy review and develop a data collection plan
- Support or lead the implementation of an Energy Management System

Learners will return to the workplace with practical tools to deliver energy savings and continual improvement.

How do we train and support you?

Our training approach is practical, highly interactive and discussion-based, with flexibility to meet organisational needs:

- Pre-training consultation to align with the organisation's EnMS system (for in-company courses)
- Comprehensive course notes, regularly updated to reflect the latest standards and best practices
